TRACEDY IN A DREAM

Remarkable Case of Dr. Corey, Who Killed His Wife.

BOTH FORMERLY RESIDED HERE

He Held a Position in the Last Census but Afterward Went West, Where He Has Prospered in Business-Reign of Lawlessness in Tacoma Recently Led him to Purchase a Revolver - What Medical Experts Say About the Deed.

Tacema, Wash., March 26.-Dr. Charles Corey shot and killed his wife this morn-ing while the two were lying asleep. Corey was ill and his story of the affair is that he was laboring under a night-mare, believing his wife was being pursued by a stranger, who was intent on killing her.

is dream Corey says he followed the two from Tacoma to Washington, and just as he fancied the man was about to stab her, fired twice with his revolver. He awoke with a start to find himself sitting in bed, with a smoking revolve in his hand. Corey had drawn his refrom its place under his pillow and killed his wife.

The relations between Corey and his wife have been very affectionate, and the authorities believe his story. He is nearly crazed with grief, and friends are watching him to prevent his suicide. Mrs. Corey was a leader in social club circles. She was afraid of a revolver, and frequently expressed fear that she would some day be killed by one. Corey was not arrested.

The strange death of the wife of Dr Charles C. Corey, of Tacoma, Washington State, who was killed by her husband while dreaming, as stated in vesterday's Post, has attracted the attention of the medical profession of Washington, and particularly students of mental disorders. The case is of special local interest, because Dr. Corey fermerly lived in this city, and his father, Dr. Waterman F. Corey, is a highly respected practicing physician Washington, having his office at 1305 R

The Coreys are of splendid New England stock; the senior physician moving to this city with his family in 1868, and establishing himself in practice, Dr. Charles' Corey attended private schools here, afterward graduating from the Spencerian Business College, and later entering upon North Daketa. He remained in the government service for three years, moving to Tacoma, Washington State, where he became interested in land speculation, and acquired considerable property. There he met his wife, the victim of the strange tragedy, who was a teacher in the public chool of that city.

A Wedding Tour in Hawail.

They were married in 1892, and started Hawaii, returning to the States and stay-ing some time at Dr. Corey's parents' tions to the people's voting thereon. came to Washington in September, 1892, remaining here until June of the next year. While here Dr. Corey, jr., lived with his parents and his wife, to whom he was to the people's voting thereon.

Three resolutions were offered, one commending the course of Gov. Pingree in his effort to secure 3-cent fares and municipal ownership; favoring the much devoted, became very popular charge of the negotiations and operation among a large circle of acquaintances. she was bright and interesting and of a literary turn. In this she was not unlike her husband, who was a deep student, paying especial attention to Greek, Latin, French, and German, the study of which languages he continued until a few

Corey returned to Tacoma and opened a drug store, in which business he has continued ever since. He has a splendid residence at 245 Tacoma avenue, in the best section of the city, and is/believed to be in good financial condition, continuing his business more for occupation than for profit. His parents and sister in this city have received regularly each week letters from him, which have always been, up to the last one, filled with endearments and praise for his wife.
Sunday afternoon Dr. Corey, sr., received a letter frem his son reading as May just died painlessly. Shot by me

This was the first intimation they had of the tragedy, and Miss Corey, a sister unfortunate man, left yesterday West for the purpose of bringing her brother back to Washington. Corey, sr., attributes the unfortunate incident to a temporary aberration of the mind occasioned primarily by anxiety. For some time past there has been adition of lawlessness in Tacoma, robberies becoming so frequent that recently a vigilance committee was or-ganized for common protection. Dr. Corey's residence is of imposing appearance was in anticipation of attempt on it that led him to purchase the valver with which the shooting was dor His father believes it was while laboring under this mental stress of probable re pery that he committed the act, and hi greatest fear is that the resulting gri night lead to self-injury. It is for this annals contain few similar cases, but students of nervous disoragree that such are far from impossion. E. L. Tompkins was reading s which, in discussing hallucinations and lusions, states that instances of hallucination are furnished by acts durir sleep, while instances of illusion occupents at wakening, frequently giving risto serious questions of criminal responsibility. Dr. Tompkins was of the opinic that the shooting by Dr. Corey of his wiwhile dreaming that she was being purely and he was endeavoring to protect the shooting by the same property of the survey of the surve sued and he was endeavoring to pro her, might have been such an illusion the time of wakening, and as contempl ed in the text book particularly, as it ap pears that Dr. Corey awakened at th very instant of firing the shot.

Might Come from Temporary Mania. Dr. H. L. E. Johnson stated in teply to similar inquiry that he did not know of a case like the one reported, but he be-lieved that such an act might result from a temporary mania and especially in the case of a very impressionable mind when the person would be acting under a dethe result of great apprehension or

Dr. Irving C. Rosse, who has made pecial study of nervous disorders, hought that the man's condition might have been somewhat synonymous to a somnambulistic state, which frequently results in persons doing things of which they have no recollection subsequently. Such a thing might have resulted from an unsound mind, he said, probably only temporary, and this condition could be duced from two prime factors in ty or stress, in the present case probably from stress.

Rosse, "are common in children who fre-Rosse, "are common in children who frequently jump up in their sleep from fright, and it is quite common for them to walk into another room and do unheard-of things. In cases of somnambulism it is notorious that persons laboring under such conditions will climb along a narrow and dangerous ledge and cross dizzy heights, frequently in safety, while in this irresponsible condition.

Instances of Similar Acts. Physicians tell of numerous cases some what similar to that of Dr. Corey, in which a person, to all purposes asleep. ommits unusual acts. The case of a husband awakening to find himself choking his wife to death is well known to medical men, and in another case one of two boys sleeping together was shot by the other while laboring under a mental illusion in sleep. Another instance is given by a person who, accustomed to

panion, some conversation and anxiety

the night one of the companions attacked the other, believing he had seized a burgiar, the two engaging in a bloody and almost deadly affray before becoming thoroughly awakened to the true situa-

Many such cases are recited, and there is little doubt among physicians here that Dr. Corey committed the terrible act of shooting his wife while suffering momen-tary aberration, aggravated by the con-ditions resulting from anxlety for her safety. safety.

"A Cheerful Look Makes a Dish a Feast."

"Cheerful looks" depend just as much upon physical well-being as upon natural disposition and temperament. If the blood is disordered, the brain is starved, and no "dish is a feast," for the reason that the vitalizing elements do not reach the proper spot.

A step in the right direction is to purify the body by the use of a natural remedy. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Nature's remedy. It acts upon the blood, and whether the seat of the disorder is brain, stomach, liver or kidneys, the purifying process of this medicine is equally sure and successful. It never disappoints.

Diphtheria - "My little nephew was troubled for two years with sore throat and tonsilitis. Was threatened with diphtheria but Hood's Sarsaparilla warded it off. He is now entirely well." INEZ G. REED, Oak Hill Ave., Waterbury, Conn.

Run Down - "I was weak, had no appetite, nervous and completely run down. Tried many remedies but nothing helped me until I used Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me." Mrs. Wm. Marks, 27 Henry St., Binghamton, N. Y.

Scrofula - "I was almost bedfast with scrofula and catarrh. Had no appetite. Hood's Sarsaparilla soon made me stronger and later all the sores disappeared and catarrh stopped." NEILIE OSMER, 414 Lyon Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

Dyspepsia-"I suffered for 20 years with dyspepsia. Dared not eat meat, new bread or vegetables. Went hungry for fear of distress. Felt despondent and distressed Took Hood's Sarsaparilla and got relief immediately. Can eat most anything with-out discomfort." Mrs. EMILY F. BUMP, Middleboro, Mass.

Liver and Kidneys-" My mother was very sick with congestion of the liver and kidney trouble. Nothing helped her until we got Hood's Sarsaparilla, which showed its effects with first dose. She is well and hearty." MRS. D. A. STONE, Winthrop, Me.

Quite a number of Senators and Representatives are in the city waiting to take up matters which require executive action. ZELTNERS PEACEABLY PUT IN JAIL

Induced to Surrender by the Arguments of Friends and the Hopelessness of Resistance, They Were Protected by the Militia from the Crowds and Taken to Bowling Green Without Incident-Trouble Now Believed to Be Entirely Over.

Toledo, Ohio, March 26 .- John and Paul Zeltner, who yesterday murdered Attorney Westenhaven at Hoytsville, and after in trenching themselves in their house, near that place, defied arrest, were finally taken this morning and are now in jail at Bowling Green

Peaceable methods prevailed in the capture, although it is doubtful if the cap ture would have been effected except fo the fact that the Zeltners were nearly ou of ammunition, and they knew surrender was the only method of saving themselves from an infuriated mob. The militia had planned to make a stand about daylight and strict picket duty was maintained by the Bloomdale Rifles all night, the short intervals and at sufficient distance PRESIDENT LEAVES GEORGIA from the house to prevent the Zeitners from picking the men off. Were Induced to Surrender At 5:30 this morning ex-Sherif! Riggs, apanied by a neighbor named Brown, started toward the house. They walked the distance alone. The Zeltners offered no resistance to their approach, and they were admitted to the house. Mr. Riggs plainly told them that the militia was ready to make an attack on the house and that they would be com pelled to surrender, and they had better give up peaceably. The Zeltners seemed sed at first to give up, and not disposed at first to give up, and stated that they feared the mob, 200 of which re-mained outside the militia lines. They tried to induce Mr. Riggs to accompan them through the timber, but he refused, and they were told that they would not be molested if they gave up their arms and accompanied him to jail. After a half-hour's talk they agreed, and Sheriff Kingsbury was notified. He at once made arrangements to afford the Zeltners the protection of the militia, and a special train was ordered to Custer to convey the Officers Think More Definite Cuban Policy Would Be Valuable.

Working in the Dark with Respect to the Ultimate Purposes of the Administration-Various Topics Discussed at Conference.

Havana, March 27.-Secretary Alger says his rather hurrled visit to Cuba need not be considered as having special import. He wishes to get into personal touch with the current business of the port. island's government and to talk with the Generals who control the various military departments. In this way he expects t gain more vivid impressions than would be possible from any official correspond ce. Moreover, he will be able to some rest and to enlarge his notions of West Indian geography.

Thus far his experience has been busy. instructive, and entertaining. He received callers on board the Ingalls before o'clock this morning, and at 9 he met the department commanders in Gov. Gen. Brooke's drawing-room at El Vedado. A conference lasting three hours followed and after lunch the Secretary drove with Gen. Brooke to Camp Quemados, where he reviewed the Seventh Army Corps. This evening he was present at a reception given in his honor at the residence of the Governor General. At the morning conference, which was f a somewhat rambling character, some of the subjects discussed were the diminagricultural life, the peace that prevails all the provinces, the excellent health of the United States forces, and the unnecessariness of a large body of troops o maintain the existing order. Two he department commanders said it would materially aid their labors if they knew President McKinley's exact policy with ect to Cuba, whether the Americ pation was to be long or short. B described themselves as working a little in the dark with respect to the ultimate purposes of the United States government. This uncertainty as to the length of the occupation, they declared, tended to promote restlessness among the Cu-

Clark shot and fatally wounded his wife at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Richard Moyne, and then killed himself. er." Yet when he went to the Moyne resi-dence Saturday night and announced his intention of remaining all night he was given a room. This morning he went to church with one of his children, and in the afternoon went to his wife's room, from whence in two shots. Mrs. Moyne rushed to her daughter's room, where she was met by Clark, who fired at her, but missed. Clark then went to his own room, and after drinking the contents of a bottle of laudanum, put two bullets into his breast, one immediately below the heart.
